

Difference “ga” and “o”

が ga

Indicates the subject of a sentence:

The word followed by が(ga) is the one doing the action or being described by an adjective or verb.

ex) Neko ga nete imasu (The cat is sleeping)

Can emphasize the subject:

ex) Sakana ga tabetai desu

Like / Want sentence:

ex) Sakana ga suki desu

を o

Indicates the direct object:

The word followed by を(o) is the item or person that the verb acts upon.

ex) Watashi wa sakana o tabe masu / Watashi wa hon wo yomi masu

Difference “wa” and “ga”

は wa

Establishes the topic:

Wa indicates what the sentence is about

ex) Watashi wa Hima desu / Kyou wa ame desu

Shows contrast:

ex) Kore wa banana desu. Sore wa ringo desu

が ga

Introduces new information / something happening now:

ex) Neko ga sokoni imasu (The cat is there)

Emphasizes the subject:

ex) Watashi ga sore o shimashita

Universal truth or fact:

ex) Sora ga aoi

Review- Verbs 1

To eat -

To drink -

To see, watch, look -

To listen, hear -

To go -

Review- Verbs 1

To eat - Tabe masu / Tabe masen

To drink - Nomi masu / Nomi masen

To see, watch, look - Mi masu / Mi masen

To listen, hear - Kiki masu / Kiki masen

To go - Iki masu / Iki masen

JAPANESE VERB TENSE

FUTURE PRESENT

PAST

Affirmative

tabe masu たべます

tabe masita たべました

Negative

tabe masen たべません

tabe masen deshita
たべませんでした

Adding “want to Verb”

Sakana o tabemasu

Sakana o(ga) tabe tai desu

Sakana o kaimasu

Sakana o(ga) kai tai desu

Let's change other verbs into this “want to” form

Drink / See / Listen / Go to

Adding “can”

to drink = nomi masu

can drink = nome masu

Review - Verb 2

Noun + o + shimasu / shimasen

ex) To do running / To do meeting / To do job / To do cleaning / To do driving

Adding “want to do noun”

I want to do running → Running o(ga) shi tai desu

Adding “can do noun”

can • be able to do something = something ga deki masu

cannot = something ga deki masen

